The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 16-26 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as anticipated by or, in the alternative, under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as obvious over Kaspi et al "Surfactant-Mediated... Epitaxy" 1995 (MRSP vol. 379).

Kaspi teaches surfactant-mediated growth of AlGaAs with Sb surfactant. It is stated that the Sb is not incorporated significantly and perhaps incorporates at As vacancies as passivation atoms. In any event there appears to be Sb incorporation and unless applicant can prove that there is absolutely no Sb incorporation or unless applicant claims a specific magnitude of Sb incorporation which distinguishes over the prior art, the claims are considered anticipated or at least obvious over Kaspi. Note also that the product by process caselaw applies as previously and the recitation of particular devices such as lasers, diodes, etc. are not unobvious applications for Kaspi as well.

Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 16-26 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

In regard to incorporation of surfactant, note again that the incorporation of surfactant is apparently not significant in applicant's device or else the stoichiometry of the device layers would reflect the surfactant species. Moreover, there is no particular magnitude of surfactant disclosed which would structurally distinguish over the applied art.

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
